47 U.S.C. Section 160(c); WC Docket No. 18-141; Category 1

Dear FCC,

I am a long time customer of Sonic which offers DSL/phone via the unbundled copper infrastructure of ATT and I must have both DSL and a landline phone. I do not want my Internet/phone costs to go up and I need this basic service. I use it for home, business and security. I'm not able to get fiber yet and cable services are way too expensive. DSL over copper is my best and most affordable option. I also upgraded my inhouse copper connection with a dedicated CAT5 cable to ensure a more reliable service to the junction box and Sonic has great support as well as ATT. Please don't neglect customers like me.

Regards,

Daniel Wilson
